

Blastcool Extremis[®]

The Blastcool Extremis range is a series of professional grade appliances, specially designed for outdoor use.

Whether it's a summer's day on the Cote D'Azur or a frosty winter's morning in an Alpine chalet, the Extremis series is engineered to be operated outside all the year round. Its advanced components and specially formulated compressor lubricant mean that extremes of temperature are taken in its stride.

Solid door options are available in all three model sizes.
